Pasadena Climate Action Plan

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: The Pasadena Climate Action Plan (CAP) is a long-range qualified greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction plan that provides a strategy to reduce GHG emissions from community-wide activities and municipal operations in Pasadena. The CAP supports the State's efforts under EO S-3-05, AB 32, and SB 32, and builds on the goals and policies of the General Plan and complements the State's objectives to address climate change. Specifically, the CAP identifies climate action measures and implementation actions to reduce GHG emissions to achieve the following reduction goals: 27 percent below 2009 levels by 2020 (equivalent to 14 percent below 1990 levels, exceeding AB 32 target), 49 percent below 2009 levels by 2030 (equivalent to 40 percent below 1990 levels, consistent with SB 32), 59 percent below 2009 levels by 2035 (equivalent to 52 percent below 1990 levels), and 83 percent below 2009 levels by 2050 (equivalent to 80 percent below 1990 levels, consistent with EO S-3-05).

PROJECT LOCATION: The proposed project applies citywide and would encompass all areas within the city limits.

ENVIRONMENTAL DETERMINATION: An initial environmental study was prepared and concluded that the proposed project could not have a significant effect on the environment and therefore, a Negative Declaration has been prepared.

ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION: On January 18, 2018, the Environmental Advisory Commission (EAC) reviewed the draft Pasadena CAP and unanimously voted to recommend approval with the suggestion to involve the Commission in monitoring and advising of the CAP.

MUNICIPAL SERVICES COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION: On January 23, 2018, the Municipal Services Committee reviewed the draft Pasadena CAP. The Committee unanimously voted to recommend approval of the CAP and supported the recommendation that the Environmental Advisory Commission be charged with monitoring and advising of the CAP.
